

About us

My name is Songkran Hitakoon. I am the owner and the manager of Thailandiesforyou. I have many years of experience in finding the right partner for our female and male customers.

I know from my personal experience which difficulties may arise in a cross cultural relationship and how to avoid them. I take my responsibility towards our male and female customers very seriously and only suggest a meeting when I think the man and woman will fit together well.

Thailandiesforyou is located at Ruam Chok Market, only a 15-20 minutes drive from Tha Pae Gate, the center of Chiang Mai. You find detailed maps in the contact page.

What makes our business different from other introduction services?

- We have a professional and personal approach based on long term experience at an affordable price for both Thai women and foreign men.
- We will personally give advice to you regarding how to deal with cultural differences and which of our ladies might fit you best.
- We consider it important to know both our male and female customers personally. All our customers have to apply for membership in our Chiang Mai office, except the email contact membership for foreign men who want to get to know our ladies before they come to Chiang Mai.
- The first meeting with one of our ladies will take place in our office or in a restaurant nearby. Based on our experience we consider it important to be available to facilitate the first contact.
- We check our Thai ladies in interviews regarding their background, personal history, and sincerity in wanting a relationship with a foreign man.
